PEACE PLAN FOR MEXICO THREATENS TO FAIL

U. S.-Mexican Commissioners Are Greatly Disturbed by Reports of Villa's Growing Strength.

WITHDRAWAL IS BELIEVED DELAYED

Mexicans Loud in Protestations That Carranza Can Handle Situation—No Settlement Expected this Week

(By Review Leased Wire)
NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 21.—Peaceful solution of the border situation is bristling with troubles for the Mexican-American joint commission, the new attack by Villa on Chihuahua City injecting serious difficulties into what would otherwise be a seemingly simple undertaking. One thing is certain, there will be no definite agreement this week.

Settlement Delayed.

The renewed activity of Villa in Chihuahua positively will delay any agreement on some plan of border patrol, even the Mexican commissioners concede this. They hope, however, by tomorrow to have official reports from their government which will serve as a basis for argument that the attack on Chihuahua City is not a true indication of the government's inability to maintain peace upon the frontier.

Today the only information upon the border presented by the Mexicans was a brief message from Andres Garcia, consul at El Paso, asserting that "all is tranquil in Chihuahua."

General conditions in Mexico again were discussed and the American members have received more reports gathered by the state department on conditions in Mexico. The subject of withdrawing American troops was talked over, the Mexicans expressing their opinion that General Carranza's army was capable of coping with the situation.

Alberto Pani, one of the Mexican commissioners went to New York tonight on business connected with the railroads of Mexico, of which he is director-general. Without him the other two Mexican commissioners expect to meet the American tomorrow, but tomorrow night Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican commission expects to go to New York causing a postponement until Monday.

Johnson was taken into custody after the shooting and removed to Phoenix, as a matter of precaution, it was stated.

Caruthers was the son of E. G. Caruthers, who is proprietor of the store here and president of the First National Bank of Yuma.

Caruthers had controlled a large cattle ranch adjoining the property of the Gila Bend Land and Water Company since here.

MICHIGAN MILITIAMAN FALLS TO DEATH IN N. M.

(By Review Leased Wire)
EL PASO, Sept. 21.—Private Fred J. McGibbons, of H. Company, Thirty First Michigan Infantry, was thrown off an army motor truck and instantly killed near Las Cruces, N. M., according to information received at the Michigan camp here tonight. This is the first death in the regiment since it was detailed for border service. The accident was due to the car striking a rut in the road. Arrangements were made here to ship the body to Rochester, N. Y., where a sister of the dead man resides.

The engineers held two conferences today which were devoted to technical matters and inspected the copper mines in this district.

Genl. Bell Tells War Department Bandit's Attack on Chihuahua Shows Growing Strength of Outlaw.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS MAY EVEN BE HELD UP

Four Hours the Tide of Battle Favored the Outlaws, Says General Bell—More May Be Heard From Them.

(By Review Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The detailed account of the fighting at Chihuahua City last Saturday, when Villa celebrated the Mexican "independence day" by a successful assault on the Carranza garrison, reached the war department today from Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district. It asserts that Villa personally led the attacking forces; that he took and held numerous important buildings in the city for several hours; more he was joined by a thousand or more men of the Carranza garrison, and retired, promising to return soon and taking with him a large quantity of captured arms, ammunition and artillery.

General Bell's dispatch does not show the source of his information. Other reports so far received are similar only in that they show a fight did occur on September 16 and that the Villa followers took the penitentiary and some other buildings. They all conflict as to the part Villa played, not even agreeing that he was present.

All reports received are being forwarded to New London for the information of the Mexican-American commission. It is regarded as probable that an official version will be forwarded there soon by General Carranza.

Peace Plan Held Up

No officials would predict what effect the incident may have upon the negotiations at New London. It was deemed certain, however, that no agreement could be reached by the commissioners until it was known precisely how the situation in northern Mexico has been altered by the Chihuahua City developments and until it was made clear what the Carranza government would do to cope with the new situation.

Many army officers still believe that Villa is either dead or his power so thoroughly broken that he could not hope to reestablish himself.

It is thought unlikely that General

22ND BREAKS CAMP; GOING BACK TO DOUGLAS

Regulars Expect to Leave Saturday or Sunday, But Will Be Replaced by Regiment of D. of C. Militia.

GUARDS FROM CAPITAL EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

Another Battery and a "Millionaire" Troop Will Accompany Them—Captain Wilson Assumes Command

Colonel Tillson received orders at Camp Greenway yesterday to move the Twenty-second Infantry, encamped at the Country Club, back to Douglas and the regiment doubtless will leave Saturday or Sunday.

Already their camp is breaking up, the big tents are down and forty big army trucks are waiting to haul them to the Smelter City this morning. The soldiers went into "shelter tents" last night, and have packed all their belongings, the rest of which will be taken south in a second trip of the trucks this afternoon.

The truck train which arrived from Douglas yesterday afternoon composes 26 three-ton trucks and 14 of a ton and a half each, under command of Captain Wm. G. Fleischauer.

Everything will be taken by the regulars except the mess houses which will be left for national guards reported on the way from Fort Meyer.

The news wasn't hailed with hearty delight at Camp Greenway, but it is a part of the soldier's life and there was no complaining. Some consolation is to be gotten from other news, considered trustworthy that the Third Regiment, National Guards of the District of Columbia will arrive shortly.

Guards Due in Week.

It was even rumored the new guards will reach Warren early next week, and will be accompanied also by Battery A and Troop A, the latter known as the millionaire outfit, composed of college boys, bankers and other professional men. They have been encamped for months at Fort Meyer, Virginia, and have been literally "champing at the bit" for this chance to come to the border.

Captain Washburn of Troop A, the Millionaire outfit, was formerly a first sergeant in the Second U. S. Cavalry and was instructor of the troops before his appointment as captain at the unanimous request of his troops.

Keep Regulars Together.

The recalling of the regulars to Douglas was explained by the recent transfer of the Fourteenth Infantry to Yuma, and a desire to retain the present strength at the Smelter City.

Members of the Twenty-second and the citizens of the District have found each other entirely congenial during their stay here, the regiment worked itself into the scheme of things here warmly, and its boys, its band, its starling athletes helped to make things lively on numerous occasions.

Captain Wilson Commands.

Under the new system, Captain George G. Wilson of Battery B of the D. C. guards was appointed commanding officer of the camp to succeed Colonel Tillson of the Twenty-second. First Lieut. John R. Vanderhoof has been named adjutant and Louis B.

New photographs of Robert Bacon (left) and W. F. McCombs.

These two men, long known as powers in their respective parties, are seeking the senatorship in New York. Bacon was formerly ambassador to France and assistant secretary of state under President Roosevelt. McCombs managed President Wilson's pre-convention campaign four years ago and was chairman of the Democratic national committee during the campaign in 1912, which resulted in Wilson's election.

Acres of Soldiers March In Review at El Paso, Texas

(By Review Leased Wire)
EL PASO, Sept. 21.—The war strength division review, which started on its march at 8 o'clock this morning, did not see the last of its units returned to camp until a late hour tonight.

After its long tour through the streets of El Paso, it required five hours and thirty-two minutes for the line to pass the reviewing stand at Fort Bliss, in which sat Major General C. M. Clements, of the Pennsylvania guard, in whose honor the review was tendered, and Brigadier General Geo.

Bell, Jr., U. S. A., commanding this district.

After passing the stand, the men were massed in close formation shoulder to shoulder and file against file, forming a solid mass of human fighting material 1200 yards long and 400 yards deep, covering a space of 101 acres.

Brigadier General C. G. Morton, U. S. A., commanding the troops whose progress, tedious and trying in the warm weather, was unmarred by a single mishap.

TEUTONS FLEE PURSUED BY WILSON TO DEFEND HIS TREATMENT OF BUSINESS SATURDAY

Von Mackensen, With Great Army of Germans, Bulgars and Turks Retreat in Disorder, Burning Villages.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—The Germans, Bulgarians and the Turkish troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen have been defeated in the Rumanian province of Dobruja, according to the official announcement from Bucharest. It is declared that the invaders have retired to the south and are burning villages in their retreat.

The great battle, which was the climax of von Mackensen's swift campaign in the Dobruja district immediately after the declaration of war by Rumania, began on September 15 and ended, says Rumanian headquarters, on the 20th. With reference to these operations Berlin merely says that "fighting in Dobruja has come to a standstill."

Rumanians, Russians and Serbians participated against the invaders, strong reinforcements having been hurried to Dobruja when the operations under the noted German field marshal threatened to overwhelm a section of Rumania. A strong line to the north was hastily fortified and powerful forces were thrown out to oppose the onslaughts of the Central Powers.

That the six days battle has been a sanguinary one is indicated by the various official statements which told of the intensity of the fighting that has continued without cessation.

G. O. P. CANDIDATE KEEPS UP ABUSE

Declares American Rights Are Ignored, Lives Lost, Property Destroyed, All Corrupted Through Wilson.

(By Review Leased Wire)

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 21.—Instructions said to have been given by President Wilson to John Lind, his personal representative in Mexico during Huerta's time, were cited in speeches by Chas. E. Hughes at Fort Wayne today and here tonight in support of Mr. Hughes' denial that the administration sought to deal with small states in the same spirit as with large states.

"We were told four years ago," he said, "in very plain language, that the constitutional rights of American citizens should be protected; that these rights went with them throughout the world, both as to their lives and property. On the contrary, we have seen American rights abused, American lives lost, American property destroyed, and American commerce interrupted. I say that explicit pledge was not kept."

His Exposure

Mr. Hughes also discussed the Mexican situation.

"It was only the other day that I got information of official instructions given John Lind, the unofficial representative to Mexico. And those instructions were as proposed to a minister of another government, as follows:

Deep Staff

"Huerta will be put out if he doesn't get out. It is the purpose of the President that it be accomplished by domestic means if possible, but if it can't be done by domestic means, means adequate for that purpose will be resorted to."

"There is no basis for that; there

REED FLAYS HUGHES AS TOOL OF R. R.

Missouri Senator Exposes G. O. P. Candidate and His Long Record Against Progressive Legislation.

IS NOT FIRST TIME HUGHES "STOOD PAT"

Vetoed 5-cent Car Fare in New York as Governor Says Reed—Now Steals Speeches and Uses Them as His Own

(By Review Leased Wire)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 21.—United States Senator Jas. A. Reed, Jr., of Missouri, in a speech here today at a state Democratic rally, replied to the attacks of Charles E. Hughes on the Adamson railroad law, declaring that Hughes had generally supported the railroads, and that "if Hughes had had his way we would be at this moment engulfed in a catastrophe so immense as to appall the imagination."

Senator Reed charged Mr. Hughes with declaring, "in substance and effect that union labor like a highwayman with a pistol, approached congress and compelled it to enact an eight hour law and that congress, in a cowardly and truculent manner, surrendered the dignity of the nation to the unlawful and violent demands of labor."

Not The First Time

"Naturally Mr. Hughes takes this view. It is the assertion of at least some of the railway presidents, it is not the first time Mr. Hughes has taken the side of the railroads."

Hughes Second in N. Y.

Senator Reed then cited instances in which he said Hughes, when governor of New York, had vetoed a two cent fare bill, a full crew bill and five cent street car fare bill. After reading Hughes' statement that the Adamson law does not provide an 8 hour day, Senator Reed charged that the Republican presidential candidate, "when he delivered this utterance might well have been accused of plagiarism, for the same speech in almost identical language was delivered on the floor of the United States senate by Reed Smoot of Utah, Jas. Gallinger of New Hampshire and Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania. There is nothing new in what Mr. Hughes says either in thought or diction."

He reviewed the steps leading up to the passage of the Adamson law and declared that congress did not yield to the demands of either union labor or the railroads.

"Neither the railway presidents nor the railway employees ever came to congress or the president with a demand of any kind whatsoever."

"What would Mr. Hughes have done if he had been president in this crisis?" asked Senator Reed.

Hughes Sidesteps

"Mr. Hughes does not dare denounce the 8 hour law. Accordingly he seeks to avert it by saying that congress only provided that the men should receive a full day's pay for 8 hours, and that as a matter of fact the bill passed was simply a bill to increase the pay of the railroad men."

DE FACTOS REPORTED IN PURSUIT OF VILLA.

(By Review Leased Wire)
CHIHUAHUA CITY, Sept. 21.—Strong outposts with numerous cavalry patrols have been established here as a protective ring against any further attempt at raiding by Villistas. General Trevino said tonight that he was not only amply prepared in case another attack on the city, but his persecution of Villa is well under way.

Three former Villistas officers have been executed in Parral for revolutionary propaganda, according to a message received here today from General Luis Herrera.

Official thanks have been conveyed to the local civil officials, who armed themselves and aided the soldiers in repulsing Villa last Saturday.
